Recognition of Prior Learning Policy

1.0 Purpose

1.1 This procedure explains the process of applying for and granting Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), and the requirements of the National Code of Practice for Registration Authorities and Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students.

2.0 Definitions

2.1 Recognition of Prior Learning is the formal acknowledgement of current skills, knowledge and attitudes held as a result of education and training, work experience and/or life experience. It is essentially an assessment only pathway in the VET system.

3.0 Responsibility

3.1 The CEO is responsible for the implementation of this procedure and to ensure that staff and students are aware of its application and that staff implement its requirements.

4.0 Requirements

4.1 RPL must be applied for within 14 working days of the commencement of course, but the Institute would prefer the application to be filed before the enrolment to a course.

4.2 Recognition of Prior Learning must be structured to minimize the cost and time to applicants whilst retaining the integrity required by the AQTF to recognize competencies in accordance with the requirements of Training Packages or Curriculum documents.

4.3 The provider must ensure that any applicant for Recognition of Prior Learning is provided with:
   - Information about the competencies and performance criteria relevant to their Recognition of Prior Learning application
   - Adequate information and support to enable them to gather reliable evidence of competency
   - Opportunities to obtain feedback on the evidence proposed prior to finalisation of the application.

4.4 Competencies for which RPL is being requested may have been developed through formal education and training, through work experience or training or through life experiences.

4.5 A written statement from an appropriate supervisory person is required to confirm authorship of any work submitted.

4.6 It is accepted that RPL is an assessment of an individual’s current knowledge, skills and attitudes even though the evidence produced in support of the claim for recognition may be drawn from the past. It is up to the RPL assessor to judge whether the evidence produced demonstrates current knowledge, skills and attitudes.

4.7 Students who are eligible for credit transfer must not be required to undertake a RPL process. Refer to the credit transfer procedure.

5.0 Method

Prior to commencement a review of each student’s previous education, training and work experience will be conducted in order to determine if there is a need to recognise existing competencies through recognition of prior learning and / or mutual recognition.

5.7 In a situation, where the applicant is applying for RPL and is unable to provide sufficient evidence, applicant has to undertake all the tasks/assessments for the unit(s) of competency he is applying the RPL for. If these tasks are granted competent, it will be considered as an evidence for RPL application.
5.8 A trainer / assessor from our Institute will review the RPL application and advise the RPL applicant which units they consider RPL is applicable to and the reason why.
5.9 The RPL applicant will be given an opportunity to amend their RPL application if they so choose.
5.10 Whatever the trainer / assessor from our Institute advice is, it is entirely the applicant’s decision as to which units they will submit an RPL application for.
5.11 Once the RPL application has been reviewed and finalised the Institute will appoint qualified assessors to:
   • Arrange the RPL assessment schedule with the applicant
   • Conduct the RPL assessments by:
     i. Using the evidence of competency provided by the applicant, and matching the evidence against the unit elements, performance criteria, skills, knowledge, range statement and evidence guide; identify areas of competency which in the assessors opinion are met by the evidence provided
     ii. as a corollary if step i) identifying competency, knowledge or skill gaps in the evidence provided by the candidate and providing guidance and an opportunity for the candidate to supply additional evidence of competency;
   • Using components of the Institute assessment tools to provide evidence of competency where gaps still remain. The components of the Institute assessment tools to be used in this step will be determined by the remaining gaps in competency identified by the assessor.
   • When evidence gathered is outside the parameters and response guide of the Institute assessment tool, as in step i) above, the assessor is to:
